

Review published setting new course for mainstreaming property flood resilience

The Review, led by Professor Peter Bonfield, brought together leaders from across various sectors who all have an important role in improving the PFR uptake.