Since April four Typhoon FGR4 fighter aircraft from 3(F) Squadron, based at RAF Coningsby in Lincolnshire, have been deployed with 135 EAW to reinforce Romania's existing air defence capabilities. Commanded by NATO's Combined Air Operations Centre at Torrejon, Spain, the Typhoons have spent alternate weeks at high readiness to respond to unusual air activity over the Black Sea, in order to reassure Romania and other NATO members of the Alliance's resolve to defend its airspace. During the mission Typhoons had to 135 EAW's Commanding Officer, Wing Commander Andy Coe, was the□ first to be decorated by Gen Anastasof. Wg Cdr Coe said: "I can't express□ how proud I am to receive such a high honour from our Romanian friends and□ allies. But I'm absolutely clear that those of us who were honoured received□ our awards as ambassadors for our teams, for NATO and for the Royal Air Force.□

We work as a Whole Force, and that's how we'll celebrate too."

135 EAW is currently drawing down its presence in Romania as the Royal Canadian Air Force prepares to assume the responsibility for NATO's
