

Royal Navy warship sails into Arctic Circle for High North operation

HMS Lancaster has completed three days of operations in the High North, marking the second time the Royal Navy has sailed into the Arctic Circle in two months.