

Safer Communities & Justice Brief : March 2018

Scottish Government Justice Analytical Services have recently published the March edition of the Monthly Safer Communities and Justice Brief.

This brief provides, in a single place, a concise but comprehensive overview of all the most important Justice and Safer Communities statistics.

The brief includes a special feature on its back page, drawing from recent research undertaken by Justice Analytical Services. This month's article on the recently published 2016-17 criminal proceedings statistics.

A copy of the brief has been placed on the Crime and Justice Statistics section of the Scottish Government website

Any suggestions for improvement or for other aspects to cover in the brief would be very welcome and should be addressed to JusticeAnalysts@gov.scot.
