

Worms on a mission to research muscle loss in space

Today (Thursday 3rd June), hundreds of tiny worms are being flown to the International Space Station (ISS) as part of an experiment to understand more about human muscle loss and how to prevent it.

Calling on Russia to immediately cease its aggression against Ukraine and end its occupation of Crimea

Joint Statement Following Russia's Informal Arria-formula Meeting on Ukraine

G7 Chair's statement on vaccine confidence

Chair's statement by the G7 countries at the G7 Global Vaccine Confidence Summit.

World-leading experts commit to building vaccine confidence at UK hosted Global Vaccine Confidence Summit

The Global Vaccine Confidence Summit convened world-leading experts to commit to greater international collaboration to build vaccine confidence globally.

Chief of the General Staff RUSI Land Warfare Conference 2021

General Mark Carleton Smith, The Chief of the General Staff RUSI Land Warfare Conference 2021