Scientists report drop in Earth's movement amid coronavirus lockdown

Seismologists across Europe have been looking at the effects of the Coronavirus lockdown on seismic activity after a study in Brussels reported a drop in ambient seismic noise.