

Small businesses set to see a boost in exports and growth with new expert panel

As part of the Government's plan to support small businesses and boost global exports a new Board of Trade has been unveiled today.