

Smarter use of government land to support nature and climate

Half a million hectares to help deliver for nature recovery and climate adaptation, strengthening climate resilience