

Soft drink levy extended to protect children and improve health

The government has announced an extension of the soft drinks industry levy to more high-sugar drinks, including milk-based drinks.