

Specific batches of carbomer-containing lubricating eye gels branded Aacarb, Aacomer and Puroptics recalled as a precaution due to possible microbial contamination

MHRA tells patients and healthcare professionals to stop using affected gels and retailers told to withdraw affected products.