

STL to visit Shanghai

The Secretary for Transport and Logistics, Ms Mable Chan, will start a two-day duty visit to Shanghai tomorrow (June 16).

During the visit, she will promote Hong Kong's strengths in maritime services to the Mainland shipping sector and inspect an automated port terminal to explore collaboration opportunities. She will also meet with local government officials to exchange views on issues of mutual interest.

Ms Chan will return to Hong Kong on Tuesday afternoon (June 17). During her absence, the Secretary for Commerce and Economic Development, Mr Algernon Yau, will be the Acting Secretary for Transport and Logistics.
