

Strangles symposium success

Eradicating strangles – the UK's most prevalent infectious equine disease – could become a reality if more people were inspired to take action.