

Streamlined regulation to power growth and boost British industry

Environmental permitting for industry and energy to be modernised, as part of new plans following the landmark Corry Review