

Stronger leasehold protections in crackdown on hidden fees

Leaseholders will receive clearer information about the service charges they pay and stronger protections against unfair costs, the government has confirmed.