

Students urged to Stop! Think Fraud as more than half face scams

As the new term begins, students are reminded to spot scams, with fraudsters targeting those fresh to university life and financial independence.