

Surrey business adviser banned as company director for second time after running up £120,000 tax debts

Director ignored lessons of first disqualification and ran up fresh six-figure liability through new consultancy firm