

Survey reveals high parental confidence in children's vaccines

UKHSA data shows 85% of parents are confident childhood vaccines are safe, effective and trustworthy.