

Tackling deprivation and reversing years of unfair council funding

Outdated funding formulas that penalised deprived areas for decades are being scrapped, so local people finally get the vital public services they deserve.