

Govt, community-created dream park

What was once a sewage pumping station in Kwun Tong is now a deck park thanks to the Drainage Services Department and its goal of fulfilling the Government's "single site, multiple use" initiative and meeting the public's needs.

News.gov.hk spoke to the department's project engineers to learn more about their meticulous process of integrating the opinions of different stakeholders through various means to improve the overall design of the park and its facilities.

The story is available at www.news.gov.hk/eng/feature today (September 3) in text and video format.
