

EXTRA GREEN$ Daily Rewards celebrates HKSAR's 26th anniversary

The Environmental Protection Department (EPD) today (June 29) announced that, to celebrate the 26th anniversary of the establishment of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (HKSAR), the department will launch the EXTRA GREEN$ Daily Rewards campaign to encourage the public to integrate recycling practices into daily life. Members of the public who recycle at the community recycling network, GREEN@COMMUNITY, or participate in food waste recycling using Smart Food Waste Bins, can earn additional GREEN$ points from July 1 to 31.

A spokesman for the EPD said that members of the public can get an extra 20 GREEN$ points daily and earn six times normal GREEN$ points for designated recyclables, including waste paper, metals, plastics, glass containers, regulated electrical equipment, small electrical appliances, fluorescent lamps/tubes, rechargeable batteries, etc by weight when they recycle via the GREEN@COMMUNITY network during the promotion period. Meanwhile, those who participate in food waste recycling using Smart Food Waste Bins can also gain an additional 26 GREEN$ points daily.

To further assist the public in practicing clean recycling, the EPD has been expanding the GREEN@COMMUNITY network. There are currently 11 Recycling Stations, 33 Recycling Stores (including two new stores in public rental housing (PRH) estates, GREEN@KWAI FONG and GREEN@TAI WO HAU, which commenced services on June 26), more than 120 Recycling Spots, and around 60 smart recycling bins application points covering large housing estates, PRH estates, villages, shopping malls, universities and government venues. The EPD has been gradually expanding domestic food waste collection services. Pilot schemes have been launched in PRH estates and private housing estates, where Smart Food Waste Bins are installed to collect food waste in a cleaner and more hygienic manner. The collected food waste is then delivered to treatment facilities to be converted into energy and compost, making good use of organic resources. The pilot schemes currently cover eight PRH estates (58 blocks in total) and 15 private housing estates, and will be extended to a total of 100 blocks in the PRH estates and more private housing estates within this year.

More information on the EXTRA GREEN$ Daily Rewards campaign can be found on the EPD's Hong Kong Waste Reduction website at www.wastereduction.gov.hk/en/extra-greencoins-daily-rewards.

Japanese restaurant group Zensho Holdings Co Ltd opened its first HAMA-SUSHI conveyor belt restaurant in Hong Kong today (June 29), offering a wide range of sushi and side dishes at affordable prices.

The restaurant group opened its first Japanese beef rice shop, SUKIYA, in Hong Kong in 2019, and has expanded to eight outlets. Riding on this success, the restaurant group followed up with a second brand, HAMA-SUSHI, and opened its first store in Jordan, according to the Senior Director of Zensho Hong Kong Co Ltd, Mr Toyoki Hayashi.

Mr Hayashi said, "The new restaurant offers more than 70 different kinds of sushi and side dishes at affordable prices. We create our own ordering system by using tablets and belt conveyer serving lanes. All the sushi will be made upon point of order and delivered quickly to the customer."

He continued, "Hong Kong is an international market and people here love Japanese sushi. It is a great market for our overseas expansion. We are committed to offering safe and tasty sushi at an affordable price to customers in Hong Kong."

The Acting Director-General of Investment Promotion, Dr Jimmy Chiang, said, "We are happy to see that a new sushi brand is joining our thriving food and beverage sector, providing more choices of sushi restaurants to consumers in Hong Kong. I wish it every success in its business in Hong Kong and beyond."
