

Government begins to relax social distancing measures in gradual and orderly manner

The Government will gazette today (February 17) directions and specifications under the Prevention and Control of Disease (Requirements and Directions) (Business and Premises) Regulation (Cap. 599F), the Prevention and Control of Disease (Prohibition on Group Gathering) Regulation (Cap. 599G) and the Prevention and Control of Disease (Wearing of Mask) Regulation (Cap. 599I) to relax social distancing measures in a gradual and orderly manner. The above directions and specifications will take effect from 0.00am on February 18, 2021, for a period of 14 days till March 3 (the specified period).

A spokesman for the Food and Health Bureau said, "Thanks to the efforts of the whole community in Hong Kong, the epidemic situation has been gradually improving in the past month. With the epidemic situation under control, the Government will relax social distancing measures in a gradual and orderly manner in accordance with the latest developments of the epidemic situation and risk assessments, to allow social and economic activities to resume."

The details of the latest requirements and restrictions (see Annex 1 for requirements and restrictions under Cap. 599F) are as follows:

have to comply with the following requirements:

(a) Persons responsible for carrying on a catering business must display the poster containing the "LeaveHomeSafe" venue QR code at the entrance of the premises or at a conspicuous location which must be unobstructed at any one time so that it is readily accessible for scanning with a mobile phone by a person entering the catering premises and the size of the image of the poster displayed must not be less than 210 x 297mm (A4 size);

(5) Regarding the staff of catering business undergoing COVID-19 polymerase chain reaction-based nucleic acid testing every 14 days, in addition to the 19 Community Testing Centres, the designated post offices, 20 vending machines set up at MTR stations and 47 designated general outpatient clinics of the Hospital Authority, the Food and Environmental Hygiene Department (FEHD) will provide an additional testing route for staff of catering business as follows: starting from 9am on February 19, 2021 (Friday), the relevant persons may register via the FEHD webpage for the testing services provided by the FEHD's testing agency (Prenetics Limited). Responsible persons of licensed general restaurants, licensed light refreshment restaurants, licensed marine restaurants, licensed factory canteens, staff canteens and school canteens may register via Prenetics Limited's webpage the number of staff (with the first four types of premises inputting the licence number and the latter two inputting the Business Registration Certificate number), and choose to collect the specimen bottles at one of the four specified locations (Quarry Bay, Sham Shui Po, Sha Tin and Yuen Long) at a specified time slot. Starting from 9am on February 21, 2021 (Sunday), they may then collect the specimen bottles at the designated location at the designated time slot. The staff must return the specimen bottles to Prenetics Limited in person at any of the above specified locations in the next one to two days for testing. Prenetics Limited will release the test result via SMS within the next one or two days. The daily quota for registration is limited and online registration will cease when the quota has been fully used up. For details, please browse the FEHD webpage (www.fehd.gov.hk) or contact the hotline of the testing agency (Prenetics Limited) at 3008 8319 from 9am on February 19, 2021, onwards.

(6) A patron staying at catering premises may take off his or her mask for most of the time in order to eat or drink. Having regard to this, anti-epidemic experts have recommended enhancing air ventilation in catering premises to a minimum level of six air changes per hour. If this could not be achieved, appropriate air purification equipment should be installed as an alternative. The FEHD launched a voluntary declaration scheme on air changes in catering premises in October 2020 and has set up an online platform for a licensed catering premises to declare the information of its air changes per hour under its ventilation system and/or air purification equipment installed in its catering premises. The Government strongly appeals to catering businesses to actively follow up on the guidelines and enhance the ventilation of food premises as soon as possible. In this way, the catering premises will be able to comply with the relevant requirements when the Government includes the relevant requirements relating to air change in the directions a number of weeks later. The efforts made by catering businesses can keep the risk of the epidemic under control and take a great step forward in bringing about the recovery of the economy. To this end, the FEHD will meet with the representatives of the catering trade again in the second half of February 2021 to deliberate the details further.

Hong Kong Customs seizes suspected ketamine and suspected cannabis buds \(with photos\)

Hong Kong Customs seized about 1.8 kilograms of suspected ketamine and about 2.3 kilograms of suspected cannabis buds with a total estimated market value of about $1.6 million at Hong Kong International Airport on February 5 and 10 respectively. Two teenagers suspected to be involved in the cases were subsequently arrested yesterday (February 16).

In the first case, Customs officers inspected an air parcel that arrived from Germany at Hong Kong International Airport on February 5 and found about 1.8 kilograms of suspected ketamine concealed inside nine health supplement bottles. After follow-up investigation, Customs officers yesterday arrested one 16-year-old male suspected to be in connection with the case in Tuen Mun.

In the second case, Customs officers inspected an air parcel that arrived from Canada at Hong Kong International Airport on February 10 and seized about 2.3 kilograms of suspected cannabis buds inside five tinfoil bags. Follow-up investigation led to the arrest of a 15-year-old male in Tung Chung yesterday.

Investigations of the two cases are ongoing.

Customs appeals to parents to keep an eye on their children in order to prevent children from taking part in drug trafficking activities under peer influence.

Customs also reminds members of the public to stay alert and not to participate in drug trafficking activities for monetary returns. They must not accept hiring or delegation from another party to carry controlled items in and out of Hong Kong. They are also reminded not to carry unknown items for other people, nor to release their personal data or home address to others for receiving parcels or goods.

Under the Dangerous Drugs Ordinance, trafficking in a dangerous drug is a serious offence. The maximum penalty upon conviction is a fine of $5 million and life imprisonment.

Under the Ordinance, cannabis and tetrahydro-cannabinol (THC) are classified as dangerous drugs. Importation of products (including food or drinks) containing cannabis or THC into Hong Kong is prohibited unless the relevant provisions in the Ordinance are complied with. In order to avoid breaching the law inadvertently, special attention should be paid to the packaging labels of those products.

Members of the public may report any suspected drug trafficking activities to Customs' 24-hour hotline 2545 6182 or its dedicated crime-reporting email account (crimereport@customs.gov.hk).

Enhancing testing capabilities to tie in with strengthening of anti-epidemic measures

The Government has been refining its anti-epidemic strategies in accordance with the development of the epidemic, including following the three key principles of "compulsory testing on a mandatory basis, targeted testing on an obligatory basis and testing on a voluntary basis" to conduct large-scale COVID-19 testing for groups of different risks with a view to achieving "early identification, early isolation and early treatment", and cutting the transmission chains in the community as far as possible. Having regard to the recent higher risk of transmission and infection in different premises or groups and the strengthened anti-epidemic measures for the resumption of various economic and social activities, the Government encourages or requires people of various groups to undergo testing, and is further enhancing the supply of testing services to cope with the increasing demand for testing in order to meet anti-epidemic goals and make it as convenient as possible for the public.

The Government has all along been providing convenient testing services to the public through various channels, including free testing service. For details, please refer to www.coronavirus.gov.hk/eng/early-testing.html.

(1) The Government provides the public with free testing service through private doctors. Individual persons with symptoms should seek medical advice from doctors promptly. Other than the accident and emergency departments of public hospitals and general outpatient clinics, persons with symptoms may visit private clinics and hospitals and undergo testing as instructed by medical professionals in order to receive an early and appropriate diagnosis and treatment.

(2) People who feel they have a higher risk of exposure or are experiencing mild discomfort can obtain deep throat saliva specimen collection packs from any of the 47 designated general outpatient clinics of the Hospital Authority (HA), 121 post offices and 20 MTR stations. After obtaining deep throat saliva specimens as per instructions, they shall return the specimens to any of the 47 designated general outpatient clinics of the HA, 13 designated clinics of the Department of Health or designated specimen collection points at 23 government premises.

(3) The 19 community testing centres across the territory provide self-paid testing services to the public for general community or private purposes (such as certification for travelling or work); and free testing services for persons subject to compulsory testing or target groups requiring testing. In accordance with the epidemic situation and the testing need, the Government also sets up mobile specimen collection stations from time to time at different locations to provide testing services to those subject to compulsory testing or target groups.

In the wake of recent clusters of infection or higher risk of transmission at different premises, the Government provides free testing services at community testing centres with online bookings to various target groups such as foreign domestic helpers, construction site workers, and security and guarding personnel. To tie in with the reopening or relaxation of restrictions of restaurants and multiple scheduled premises (including (i) sports premises (including indoor and outdoor venues); (ii) fitness centres; (iii) beauty parlour and massage establishments; (iv) places of public entertainment (performance venues, theme parks, museums, public exhibitions, cinemas, family amusement centres, etc); (v) places of amusement (billiard establishments, public bowling-alleys and public skating rinks); and (vi) amusement game centres), schools, etc, there is a need to step up anti-epidemic measures, including requiring their staff to undergo testing. The Government also provides free testing services with online bookings to these target groups at community testing centres, and they may also continue to undergo testing via the above free testing means. Those with symptoms shall seek medical advice promptly and undergo testing as instructed by medical professionals, and they ought not visit the community testing centres.

The Government encourages persons of target groups to actively undergo free testing to safeguard the health of themselves, family members, colleagues and the public. Those who choose to undergo testing at the community testing centres must register through the community testing centre booking system (www.communitytest.gov.hk) for free testing service. Those without bookings will need to pay the testing fee of $240. The community testing centre booking system will show the booking status of centres for the coming week, and relevant persons can choose suitable time slots for testing. If necessary, target groups who underwent testing may make another booking.

The Government reiterates that, for those scheduled premises which will reopen on the seventh day of Lunar New Year and those restaurants which will resume dine-in dinner service on the same date, the operators are only required to arrange their staff to undergo the first testing from February 11 to 24, and arrange another test for them every 14 days. In other words, the operators can arrange the staff to receive the test on any dates within the first 14-day period, and there is no need to rush for test completion by February 18. For those who were unable to make a booking for testing at the community testing centres, they may go to the aforesaid locations to obtain deep throat saliva specimen collection packs for free testing. In general, the test result is available through SMS within 24 to 48 hours from the time of returning the specimen.

Since last July, the local COVID-19 testing capacity has been increased substantially. In January 2021, a daily average of around 41 000 virus tests were conducted by the Government, equivalent to 3.5 times the testing volume last July during the third wave of the epidemic (a daily average of around 12 000 tests). During the Lunar New Year holidays (first to third day of the Lunar New Year), the Government continued to carry out testing work, with a daily average of more than 45 000 virus tests conducted.

Starting from the end of last year, over 40 000 saliva specimen collection packs can be distributed at general outpatient clinics, post offices and MTR stations each day. In view of the surge in demand, the Government will increase the distribution quantity to over 50 000 shortly, and monitor closely the utilisation to make necessary adjustment. Furthermore, the booking quota of all community testing centres has been increased to 26 000 or above, and more manpower has been deployed to serve the public. The Government is also working with operators to increase the number of mobile testing stations in a bid to divert the demand of different sectors. For details, please refer to the Annex. Members of the public who will visit the community testing centres should make an online booking in advance so as to minimise the queueing time.
