

Develop your knowledge of equine through flexible study

At the College of Agriculture, Food and Rural Enterprise (CAFRE), we understand that full-time study isn't always practical. That's why we offer a variety of short and part-time equine courses, available through online and blended learning formats to fit around your schedule.

DAERA Minister welcomes Met Office experts to present evidence on climate change

DAERA Minister Andrew Muir has today welcomed an event organised with the Met Office on the science and evidence behind climate change.

Statement from Chief Professional Officers, Department of Health

We utterly condemn the violent and racist scenes we have once again witnessed on our streets in recent days.

Givan launches consultation on new direction for youth services

Education Minister Paul Givan has today launched a public consultation on a new draft policy setting out a strategic direction for youth services for children and young-people aged 4 to 25.

Givan: Every effort should be made to minimise disruption to teaching and learning

Education Minister Paul Givan has strongly condemned the incidents of violence and the potential for further disruption.