

Archibald launches new Skills Action Plan

Economy Minister Dr Caoimhe Archibald has unveiled a new Skills Action Plan that sets out how her Department will work in partnership to build the local skills base and deliver a sustainable, prosperous economy.

It's checkmate for Hydebank young offenders!

Young offenders at Hydebank Wood College are turning to the noble sporting pursuit of chess as a distraction from the isolation of prison life.

"Work together to help protect vital services": Nesbitt

Health Minister Mike Nesbitt has today launched the Department's 2025/26 Overarching Winter Preparedness Plan, setting out key measures to protect health and social care services during another challenging winter period.

Givan launches consultation on new organisation to support controlled schools

Education Minister Paul Givan has today launched a public consultation on proposals to establish a new organisation to support controlled schools across Northern Ireland.

Review of Invest NI investments published

Economy Minister Dr Caoimhe Archibald has responded to the publication of a review of Invest NI investments that she commissioned to ensure it is not supporting projects that arm Israel.