

Tay Cities Region backed by up to £20 million from UK government to grow its thriving creative tech sector

Investment will back local talent advancing creative technologies like computer games and virtual reality to drive new products and grow the economy.