

Teachers to benefit from multi-year pay deal

School teachers to see pay boosted over the next two years, as part of 17% increase since the general election, backed by significant additional investment.