

Thousands of small businesses to benefit from new government buying rules, boosting local jobs, growth and innovation

Thousands of small businesses across the country will have more opportunities to win valuable contracts with public sector organisations, kickstarting local economic growth and innovation