

Threatened species and precious habitats to be better protected with new funding boost for overseas conservation projects

New funding for local projects across 12 UK Overseas Territories and 36 developing countries over the next five years