

Threatened species benefit from multi-million pound investment to aid their recovery

- Results of multi-million pound conservation programme revealed for first time – showing supported over 150 species including rare mammals and insects