Today's report from the NAO should serve as a wake-up call to ministers – Wayne David

Wayne David MP, Labour's Shadow Minister for the Armed Forces and Defence Procurement, responding to the National Audit Office's report on the MoD Equipment Plan, said: "Today's report from the National Audit Office should serve as a wake-up call to ministers. The warning signs have been there for a long time but it is becomina increasingly clear that the Government is in danger of losing control of the defence budget. "Ministers ought to have clearly defined priorities and should ensure that, in these uncertain times, Britain's defence expenditure should not be the subject of ill thought-out public expenditure cuts. The defence budget has been slashed since 2010 and the Government is only meeting the 2 per cent of GDP commitment through creative accounting. "The Government should meet this commitment properly. Ministers also need to respond urgently to the concerns raised by the NAO. And they should confirm when the long-overdue National Shipbuilding Strategy will be published. "Onlv Labour can deliver a serious, joined-up Defence Industrial Strategy, as we did in Government. Our approach would safeguard Britain's industrial base, secure high quality jobs throughout the supply chain, and protect our national sovereignty, while achieving value for money."
