

Tough new legal duties on water companies to cut pollution

Water companies legally required to produce pollution reduction plans for the first time, using detailed instructions published today