

Trust carries out world-first non-invasive procedure to safely treat twin pregnancy complications

Doctors at Queen Charlotte's and Chelsea hospital have completed a world first procedure to safely treat a pair of twins in the womb with a rare condition.