

UK among first countries to recognise cryptocurrency as personal property

Owners of Bitcoin and other digital assets will benefit from greater legal protection thanks to an important clarification to the law.