

UK and Norway to operate together to counter Russian undersea threat through major new defence agreement

Combined fleet of at least 13 warships, bolstered by autonomous systems, will hunt Russian submarines and protect critical infrastructure in the North Atlantic as part of new agreement.