

UK announces biggest sanctions package against Russia four years on from full-scale invasion of Ukraine

The UK has announced a landmark sanctions package, cutting off critical oil revenues and further degrading the Kremlin's ability to wage its illegal war.