

UK announces over $40 million in Humanitarian and Health assistance for Somalia

The UK announces new funding to support Somalia's most vulnerable communities, including building their resilience to climate shocks, taking the total for the past year to over $106m.