

UK backs communities on the ocean's front line with £13.9 million investment

The funding supports international programmes delivering for people and nature, from flood protection to tackling plastic pollution.