

UK commits £100 million air defence package for Ukraine to protect cities and critical infrastructure

The UK will urgently commit an additional £100 million for air defence support to Ukraine, helping to defend the country from Russia's relentless attacks.