

UK consultancy company highlights 2025 risks for businesses

In 2025, global risks to business will be driven by power vacuums and polarisation, conflict, and the double-edged sword of technological advancement.