

UK Defence cyber skills to be boosted through industry partnership

Individuals and teams across Defence will be upskilled to confront the latest cyber threats and prove cyber readiness, through a partnership announced today