

UK defences strengthened against foreign state-backed groups

New powers are now in place for the Home Secretary to crack down on groups carrying out hostile activity on behalf of foreign states.