

UK-French relationship strengthened as Defence Chiefs discuss Ukraine and European security with their French counterparts

The UK and France have today continued top level defence engagements with a meeting of both nations Military Chiefs in London.