

UK government launches campaign with survivors and families to prevent methanol poisoning tragedies abroad

Travelling Brits urged to 'Know the Signs' following cases of death and serious illness overseas.