

UK leads global efforts to help communities save the ocean and beat poverty

New funding to protect the ocean and support communities most affected by climate change