

UK medical device testing hits record high as MHRA backs growth in brain and AI technology

Patients benefit from earlier access to technologies that could improve or save lives, as the MHRA approved 17 per cent more clinical investigations in 2025 compared with 2024, and launches measures to support innovation and...