

UK partners with Gavi to help save up to eight million lives by 2030

New UK support will see millions of children vaccinated against some of the world's deadliest diseases, Foreign Secretary David Lammy announced today at Gavi's global summit in Brussels.