

UK setting global benchmark on cyber standards, boosting growth and protecting consumers

The UK is cementing its place as a global leader in cyber security, with a raft of agreements coinciding with Singapore International Cyber Week.