

UK spends over £400 million on long-range weapons as cooperation scales up with European allies

UK will spend over £400 million this financial year on hypersonic and long-range weapons including joint projects with France, Germany, and Italy.