

UK strengthens support to Pacific communities on climate crisis

New UK funding will support communities across the Pacific, helping them prepare for extreme weather, protect vital ecosystems and build long-term resilience.