

UK supports effective media relations for parliamentary officials

A one-day training to equip parliamentary officials in Solomon Islands on effective media relations concluded last month.