

UK supports launch of study on women's political participation

The study, conducted by UN Women Lebanon in partnership with UNSCOL provides the first comprehensive assessment of women's roles in eight political parties.